It was a hot summer day.
A grasshopper was lying in the shade, relaxing from the heat of the sun
when an ant passed by.

Just looking at the ant made
the grasshopper
feel tired.

"I am gathering food for the winter when it will be cold and there will be no food. It would be a good idea if you did the same," the ant answered.

"Oh Ant, why worry about the winter? There is plenty of food right now!" the grasshopper replied.

Winter came and just as the ant had warned,
Grasshopper had no food stored.
So he went to the ant.
