Do you agree or disagree with the following statement?

better to stay with the same job for many years than to switch jobs frequently.

Answer: I agree that staying with the same job for many years is better than switching jobs frequently because of the following reasons.

First, you can give a good impression on other people if you stay at one job for a long time. To be specific, it shows that you are able to persevere through hard times and that you're dedicated.

Second, being loyal to a firm, you can build up your career. For example, one of my friends who kept working at the same company for years is an assistant manager now, while the other who kept changing jobs is still doing entry-level jobs.

Therefore, I think it's better to stay at a job for a long time.
