Q. Tell me about yourself?

TIP – This will be the first Volunteer interview question they will ask you.

Vizle

Q. Tell me about yourself?

"I am a positive person who genuinely believes you get out of life what you are prepared to put in. I am a very giving person who enjoys working alongside other like-minded people who want to make a difference in the work they are doing.

Over the years I have gained lots of transferrable skills and qualities that I feel would be suited to the position of volunteer. I am considerate and caring; I am a good communicator; I am a good organizer, and I work well as a supportive team member.

I appreciate you get lots of people applying to volunteer but my own values, my work ethic and my genuine passion for wanting to help make a difference help me to standout.

If you take me on, I promise to be a committed volunteer who acts as a positive role model for your organization and what you stand for."

Q. Why do you want to become a volunteer?

“I want to become a volunteer because this is a cause I am very passionate about and I am looking to make good use of the time that I have available.

I want the skills, the qualities and the attributes that I have built up over the years to be put to good use and working as a volunteer will help me to achieve that goal.

I am also at the stage in my life where I want to gain different experiences working for an organization that genuinely wants to make a difference in the community.

Being a volunteer will be hugely rewarding, and whilst I know it will be hard work, I will get to work alongside other like-minded people who are all striving to make a positive difference in everything they do.”

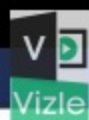

Q. Why do you want to volunteer for our organization?

“Before applying to volunteer for your organization I carried out some research and I also read your mission statement and your values.

You have a brilliant reputation and what you are trying to achieve is something I am very passionate about. You want to help people build better futures for themselves and everything you do, whether it's fundraising or holding events, is all geared towards making a positive difference.

Q. How do your core values align to those of our organization?

"My own core values include integrity, community involvement, listening, empathy and understanding, and trustworthiness.

Having researched the values of your organization, I believe these are a close match for my own. In respect of integrity and trustworthiness, I will always do the right thing and I will be committed to the role.

I am a good communicator and I understand that for communication to be effective as a volunteer, you have to be a good listener, too. I have an abundance of empathy and understanding, and I believe it is important to contribute positively to your local community.

Q. What relevant experience do you have that will help you be a great volunteer?

"I have lots of life and work experiences that I feel will help me to become a strong and productive volunteer.

I am very good with people and I have experience of developing and maintaining positive relationships that are built on trust and integrity. I have experience of communicating with a diverse range of individuals and groups.

This means I can adapt my style of communication to suit an audience. I have experience of dealing with confrontation and conflict and I always remain calm and in control during these types of situations. I have experience of solving problems and working methodically to achieve an objective.
